"THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH"

This is an oft-quoted phrase, but where is it from? It is applicable in no regard to advertising. We need not be so very old to remember the day when we read all advertisements and advertisers with suspicion. The advertisements were regarded as traps to catch the unwary and the advertisers as "quacks" or "fakers."

Not so many years ago a woman picked up a newspaper and exclaimed:
"Just listen to this: 'Blank & Blank desire to call the attention of their patrons to their Fall importations of suits and wraps.' I never saw Blank & Blank advertise before. I wonder they are going to get cheap!"

A few weeks ago the same woman said to a friend: "I have been hunting all over for that Oriental embroidery and had given up finding it when I just happened upon it yesterday. I wanted at Blank & Blank's. I told the man it was a pity they were so cheap and saved him the trouble of looking for it. This is a true story. The same woman, the same shop, nothing changed but the time and the point of view.

Women today feel aggrieved if the dealers do not keep them posted on the stock through the medium of the good newspapers.

KEPT CITY TAX TO 10 3/4 MILLS

Long List of Extras Killed Off—Citizens Filled Town Hall to Vote Over Money Matters—Mayor Murphy Found Frequent Use For Gavel in Lively Meeting—Tax Voted is Quarter Mill Less Than Council Recommended.

In a lively city meeting that filled the town hall on Tuesday evening, and lasted for about two hours, a city tax of 10 3/4 mills was voted, a quarter of a mill less than had been recommended by the court of common council. Items in those recommended by the court of common council that were killed off were $2,500 for outside work in the public works department, and $6,800 for reappropriation from general sinking fund, the $18,000 recommended for street lighting was increased $1,000, and corrections were made in the amounts for gas and electricity, which increased these by $2,712.18. These changes brought the recommended items to total of $503,789.18, where they had been $510,498.92.

To this was added $750 for cleaning the outlet of Loomis brook and $400 for improvement of Lake street playground, which were the only ones of 22 extra items involving $57,787.68 to survive the policy of economy adopted by the meeting, so that the final amount to be raised ($504,538.18 on the grand list of $1,330,000) was $150 more than last year, and was voted. Street lighting was recommended at $18,000, which is $2,000 less than last year, and the $18,000 recommended by the police commissioners, which stated there was a contemplated increase in salaries of 25 cents per day. There would be no more police signal systems to install.

More Pay for Policemen.
The sum of $27,945 for police department was asked. It was $26,000 in last year. The police commissioners, which stated there was a contemplated increase in salaries of 25 cents per day. There would be no more police signal systems to install.

Health Department Needs More.
For the health department $1,500 was asked, $200 more than last year, and Mr. Lewis explained that extension of the work in oiling ponds and in the anti-fly campaign amounted to $125, and there would be expense of about $100 in the summer of the Sunnyside annexation. The item was approved.

Less for Gas and Electric.
Five thousand dollars less than last year was asked for gas and electrical department operating expenses and $125,000 was voted, and also $20,000 interest on mortgage bonds.

M. E. Jensen Finds $4,600.
For park department $4,600 was the estimate, and M. E. Jensen explained that he wanted $500 more, which was to be used for a roadway. He said he had discovered $4,600 in cash that the city had but didn't know about. This was because the balance of cash on hand was given at $4,060.04 when it should be $3,722.06.

Money Didn't Reach Sinking Fund.
In the finance department the reappropriation of $5,510.92 for the sinking fund brought General Aiken to his feet with explanatory words on the appropriation and asked for the difference between the item of ordinary repairs and macadam repairs. Alderman Gebrath explained that no macadam repairs were included in ordinary repairs.

For garbage and ashes $5,500, which was $500 more than last year, because of the department having to quit dumping in certain sections as explained by Alderman Gebrath, was voted. The alderman said covers for ash carts were under consideration when General Aiken asked about these.

General Aiken asked about these. For sewers and catch basins $2,500, same as last year, for macadam repairs. The sum of $5,500 for oiling and sprinkling streets was $1,000 more than last year. The sum of $232.52 not spent in widening Water and Shattuck streets was reappropriated, and the sum of $58.97 for Street sewer macadam also reappropriated, under similar conditions. This sum has since been spent in finishing the road.

done after the vote had been twice called.

A vote to approve the appropriations and to lay a city tax of 10 3/4 mills was passed by Corporation Counsel Fanning casting the affirmative ballot. The compensation of the tax collector was made one per cent. Approval was noted of a deed exchanging land with Charles Hard in relation to the Washington street entrance to Mohegan park, and of a deed for a remote portion of the La-Pierre farm for land lying near Meadow Brook reservation. The meeting adjourned a few minutes after 10 o'clock.

TO ACADIA UNIVERSITY.

Joseph A. Ambler, of Norwich, Will Be Member of Faculty of Nova Scotia College.

Joseph Alfred Ambler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Ambler, of Norwich, has been appointed professor of chemistry at Acadia university, Wolfville, Nova Scotia. Mr. Ambler was graduated from Norwich Free Academy in 1907 as first English scholar, and valedictorian, winning the Sayles prize in physics in his senior year and the Newton Perkins medal in geometry during the lower middle year. He was graduated from Yale scientific department, Sheffield, in 1910. At the end of his junior year he won the Rogers scholarship in chemistry and in his senior year divided the Beman prize in geological studies. He was graduated in 1912 with general two year honors and in his senior year was taken into the honorary society of Sigma Xi.

Mr. Ambler returned to Yale as laboratory assistant, taking up research work in organic chemistry under Prof. T. B. Johnson, continuing for three years. He has published three papers on research work; his thesis will be published later. He returns to New Haven Saturday to receive the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Yale university.

Acadia university, to which he goes as head of the department of chemistry, was founded in 1833 by the Nova Scotia Baptist Educational society and in 1851 was transferred to the educational society of the Baptist convention of the Maritime Provinces. It has fine college buildings, including College hall, Carnegie Science hall (Rhodes hall, Chipman hall, gymnasium, observatory, library, etc.). The faculty numbers about 25, the president being Rev. George B. Cutten, D. D., Ph. D. It is an interesting fact that one member of the faculty is Francis R. Haley, M. A., professor of physics, for several years teacher of mathematics in Norwich Free Academy and who married Miss Will of Norwich. The college year begins Oct. 1st.

Mr. Ambler's fine appointment is the reward of thorough, conscientious work, careful research and sound scholarship and he will have the felicitations of friends and classmates here and at Yale on his distinguished success.
